PLUGS

Our Nursery has made the investment to transition some of our bare roots seedlings into greenhouse grown plugs. In the catalog to follow, you'll find the species we have available for this coming season. We are excited for this new adventure and look forward to sharing our high-quality product with you.

Advantages to plugs:

- Wider range of a harvesting window. Weather is no longer a limiting factor to our harvest.
- Research shows plugs have a:
  - Higher survival rate
  - Establish quicker
  - Stronger resistance to soil or transplant shock
  - Easier transition into dormancy when planting in the fall.
- Plugs have a soil mass with nutrients available to the roots.
- Easier to plant
- Consistent product size from year to year

In the coming years, when appropriate, we will continue to transition from bare root stock into greenhouse grown plugs.

PNWCTA- ELITE SEEDLINGS

The seed originates from a collection taken from the Riley Peak/Fanno Ridge (R/F) area in the Oregon Coast Range known as the 053 seed zone. The 053 zone has been identified as the best seed collection area to produce the desirable characteristics for growing Noble Fir Christmas trees. In 1975, volunteers from the Pacific Northwest Christmas Tree Association (PNWCTA) searched out the best-looking trees in the 053 zone. Trees were numbered and growing traits were tested. Established orchards used the trees that showed the growing traits necessary to develop a Noble Fir that is uniform, lush green and matures into a beautiful Christmas tree. These seedlings are the result of decades of testing, cloning, and cross pollinating by PNWCTA volunteers in conjunction with OSU and WSU experts. One aspect studied through the orchard project was a condition called current season needle necrosis (CSNN). It is not fully understood what causes CSNN, but seems to be a mineral deficiency in the needles and is more prevalent in trees grown in lower elevations. Some of these numbered sources have shown stronger resistance than others to CSNN. R/F – Orchard run – Mixed collections, varying characteristics, would be a great choice for farmers with multiple fields with different elevations and soil conditions. More uniform and consistent than 053. The PNWCTA has other RF numbered sources, but these are the only ones we will be carrying this season. One thing to keep in mind is that these are all from the 053 seed zone area, so if you have been a dedicated 053 grower these trees will fit your style.
